Danny the Champion of the World
by Roald Dahl
Illustrations by Jill Bennett

Danny and his father live in a caravan. Danny's father owns a local garage station and a small farm where they keep all their money. Danny goes to school and has a few exciting things happen to him there. When poaching season comes Danny becomes the champion of the world because he discovers a way to poach, and no body else had done it.

A GOOD NEWS MEMO

LOUISVILLE MIDDLE SCHOOL
Louisville, Colorado

A GOOD NEWS MEMO

To: Mr. and Mrs. John Swenson Date: June 8, 1978

From: Mr. Gruhlkey

We initiated a program in the Middle School four years ago that rewards students who make a contribution to their school or to their fellow students. Students are brought to the office to meet with the principal with refreshments served and a guest book is signed by the students.

Your son, Mike, received this honor Monday, June 5, 1978. He was recommended by Mrs. Shireen because Mike was a real asset to the Enrichment Center this quarter, worked hard, and has accomplished much. Mike also did several tasks at home. Mrs. Shireen is very pleased with his work and effort.

Congratulations to Mike. You can be very proud of him. Students like Mike are a real asset to the Middle School.

Dear [illegible],

Louisville Parks and Recreation will be holding a Water Safety Aide Class for all those interested in aiding instructors at the pool this summer. The class will be held May 18-23 from 5:00 to 6:00 P.M.

The class will consist of perfecting swimming strokes, techniques in teaching swimming and basic water safety skills. We will be choosing 5 to 6 top swimmers for the summer plus one or two alternates.

WSA's are not paid, but do receive a pool T-shirt, free admission to the pool during regular swimming hours, and an opportunity to be hired on as next year's staff because of swimming experience. The working hours will be Monday thru Friday, 8:00 to 12:00 Noon, starting June 9, 1979, thru August 25, 1979.

If you have any questions, please contact Pattie Varra at 666-8110.

Sincerely yours,

August Hlisco

NAME OF PLAY: Doomsday for Earth

MEMBERS OF GROUP: Mike Swanson

MEMBERS OF AUDITION: 15 minutes

1. ORIGINALITY OF SCRIPT - 20 points
How does the plot come off? Is it interesting, suspenseful, funny? Is it a tired, worn-out idea or clever? Does the dialogues between the characters seem real?
SCORE 20

The story was interesting and easy to follow. The result was an interesting and humorous break. Suspense was successfully built. Not only was it interesting, but comical and different. Character of the mutoid was especially well done.

2. AUTHENTICITY OF SCRIPT - 20 points
If the group wrote a new episode or installment for an old radio show does it follow its format? Are the same characters and sequence of events present? If the group has an original show, does it follow a format that makes sense? Are the scene changes made? Is there a good opening and closing?
SCORE 20

Music played before and after breaks - announcer successfully led in and out of different parts.

3. CREATIVE USE OF SOUND EFFECTS - 20 points
Do the sound effects sound real? Do they achieve the effects the group desired? Are there too many of them or not enough?
SCORE 20

Great! Loved walking, door opening, space ship take off

4. ORIGINALITY OF COMMERCIALS - 20 points
Are the commercials well written or are they silly and meaningless? Are there too many or too few? Are they made to be a part of the story?
SCORE 28

Soggie-Doggies commercial was FANTASTIC! Song was so hysterical! 100 Outer space soggie-doggies? Vomit flavored? 2

5. QUALITY OF PRESENTATION - 20 points
Overall, how does it come off? Is it a smooth flowing, organized tape? Could it succeed as a radio show?
SCORE 20

excellent sound quality - in fact it sounded professional. You and your actors should be commended - especially the aliens!

+100

6. ADDITIONAL COMMENTS, CRITICISM

I don't think I've ever given anyone 100 points before. That goes for last years award-winning tape. Congratulations!

Not pictured: Kim Davenport, Paul Fischer, Patty Ross, Theresa Schmidt, and Andrea Wright.

Looking Back

May 8, 1959

School board vote for District 29 was 698. Dolores Forbis, Frank Varley and Clifford Foster were elected.

The town annexed the Scenic Heights subdivision, moving the town's boundary north to South Boulder Road. Joe Colacci and Carmie Scarpella owned the land.

Donna Eickman and Kenny Mellecker were crowned Prom queen and king.

Cub scouts were organized with 23 boys in four dens. Den Mothers were Mrs. Louis Guilbeau, Mrs. Paul Hine, Mrs. Paul Domenico and Mrs. Dan Telk.

May 11, 1944

Louisville mothers of men and women in the armed forces were to be honored on Mothers Day. Plans were to give 600 carnations to 300 mothers on Saturday. Block leaders of the Defense Council were to distribute the flowers.

Guest editorial...

Louisville Deserves Better Things

Those of us who are old timers in this area have seen both Boulder and Louisville grow considerably larger over the years, and while Boulder had the advantage of a solid economical base, with the University and many industrial plants that established a continuous employment for the citizens, Louisville suffered a reverse in payrolls when the mines ceased to operate. This meant driving to other locations for employment and take what was available, as Louisville had to struggle to survive on a lowest income. The surrounding areas knew they would hire a good, honest employees anytime they put a Louisvillier on their payroll.

But in spite of the tremendous difference in the economic base of the two cities, Louisville is still the most desirable in which to live, visit, or simply drive through for the circulation pattern of Boulder is terrible.

They have many east-west streets but only two north-south streets. This means anyone driving from either end of Boulder across town must weave their way through all that traffic, creating more pollution and congestion and fender-bending, for tempers are getting shorter daily while the city fathers plan to double their shopping center and create more congestion than ever. Since we have had two car-breakers in the past month we have decided to shop elsewhere in the future. There's no sense in trying to buck so much competition to buy a few everyday necessities. This type of shopping is too expensive.

We can see the far-sighted planning in Louisville as the city will have five facilities outside of the present circulation patterns where future growth can be handled very conveniently. We hope the Centennial Valley Mall will become a reality without further loss of time and expense as it will be a pleasure to shop there in security and comfort.

We want to take this opportunity to compliment the council and planning board for their careful and thoughtful decisions in promoting a logical and sound additional

Keep on going youre near the end 12
The treasure is where you find it, friend
Next clue is to look in the end of the pole
Wet to dry is your goal

Well now from here go take a trip
To the place you get a sip
Well look a little higher up
To the place that rhymes ↑ a c--

Doggie, doggie go away
This one comes and goes - never stays
15 cents is a clue for you
Bet you find the treasure too

(15)

In a place that rhymes with head
Run right out to the ----
To find your last and final clue
That's the message I have for you

Since a monkey you are not
And a tail you haven't got
So on a pole you have to hang
And it isn't on a boomerang
Hurry before it is too late
To the place you keep clothes straight
There you'll find them in a row
And the next clue you'll need to know

Here's a clue with dough for you
Find a tree and take steps too
Face the tree, move 3 steps left
You'll find it in a little cleft

(16)

Go to a place that's a source of heat
Look for a bed that folds up neat.
Look somewhere near a crack
Do not break your mother's back

To find your treasures you must go
To places you already know
But you have to solve the rhyme
To find the treasure every time
Careful when you start to play
Your first clue will be in the way
Step carefully don't crack the clue
It tells you what to do

(17)

Now you're near the very best
Gonna find your special nest
In a place you pack your bag of dirts
It turns around when water squirts

a clue to help you go
To a place you ought to know
This is where you oughta look
In the place where people cook

Dear Mike;

CONGRATULATIONS!!

Your entry in the Easter Coloring Contest has been selected by a panal of well known Denver artists, as a semi-finalist.

We enclose your individual prize, a $10.00 gift certificate. It is redeemable for food or fountain services at any Big Boy Restaurant.

Judging of all the semi-finalist entries for the Grand Awards will be conducted this month by judges selected from among prominent advertising executives in the Denver area. Winners will be notified as soon as possible after judging has been completed. Winners in the semi-finals will be displayed in an Azar's near your home until the final judging is completed.

We most appreciate your having entered our contest, and again, congratulations on your success!

Sincerely,

Harry F. Landon
Marketing Director

Dear Mike:

Congratulations!!

Your entry in the Azar's Easter Coloring Contest has been judged winner of the Grand prize.

Enclosed, is your $100.00 United States Savings Bond. May we at Azar's take this opportunity to personally congratulate you on your success, and to commend you for the diligence and creativity which went into making you a winner. As you know, you were picked as a semi-finalist from among several thousand entries, and were awarded your Grand prize from the best finalist in all Azar's restaurants.

All semi-final entries were judged by a panel of well known Denver advertising executives, who made the final selections. Pictures were taken for release to local newspapers in your area.

Again, our congratulations for a good job well done!

Sincerely,

Swim Results

Louisville's swim team ran into some rough waters as they went down to defeat 515-157 to Boulder Country Club and 484-224 to Flatirons Country Club on consecutive Saturdays. There were some bright spots, however, as a few Louisville swimmers placed in the top three in their individual events.

The following Dolphins won ribbons and points for their team:

LOUISVILLE TIMES/LAFAYETTE NEWS

Louisville Swim T

Louisville's tankers made a big splash this past Saturday at the local pool, posting a 452-185 victory over rival Lafayette, for their first win of the '78 season. The dolphin swimmers threw in coaches Randy Carnival and Nickki DelPizzo for the traditional victory swim after the final score was announced. The two coaches were joined by all members of the swim team, many of them wearing their T-shirts and towels. Victories are great! We hope to see a repeat performance next Saturday when Louisville swims Hi-Mar to close out the season.

Of the 18 relay events, Lafayette managed to win only once. Louisville won the other 17 relays. Some super performances were turned in at this meet. Winning 1st-3rd for the local tankers were:

Louisville Swim Team

For the second week, Louisville's Dolphin swimmers came out in the win column by defeating Hi-Mar's swim team 358-321 in a meet that was every bit as close as the score indicates. The two teams were very evenly matched, both in numbers and ability, and the scoring lead changed several times before Louisville finally emerged the victors.

Louisville's swimmers now go on to qualifying for the Boulder Valley Summer Swim League finals which will be held this Saturday at the Elks pool. Ten teams will participate, and we hope to have some ribbon and medal winners to report in next week's Times.

The annual swim team picnic will be held on Sunday, July 30th, at 6:00 p.m. at Memory Square Park and will be a pot luck.

The following Dolphin swimmers placed in last Saturday's meet:

TO THE PARENTS

This is a report of the results of tests that your child took recently to find out which basic skills he or she is acquiring at a satisfactory level, and with which skills help is needed. Improvement in skills comes most quickly when students, their parents, and their teachers all understand in which areas the student needs to work especially hard. This report gives the results of testing at one particular time; there may have been reasons why it was not the best time for some students to take the tests. If you feel that this report does not represent your idea of your child's work, or if you have questions, please see your child's teacher or counselor for further explanation and interpretation of the results.

EXPLANATION OF TEST SCORES

On the left side are listed the names of the tests. These are the keys to all scores across the page. Explanations of the scores are given below, introduced by the abbreviated column heading and its complete title. Schools are given the option of requesting several types of scores derived from the raw score. Each of the available scores is explained on this page. The abbreviated headings at the top of the columns in this report will reflect which of the available scores your school has chosen.

RS • RAW SCORE

The raw score is the number of items answered correctly. It has no meaning by itself but is the key to the other scores.

SS • SCALE SCORE

Scale Score converts the raw score to a weighted score on a scale between 000 and 999. This "Scale Score" provides a means of measuring growth between successive testings that cannot be obtained from other scores.

GE • GRADE EQUIVALENT

The Grade Equivalent is the grade in which typical students in the nation obtained the raw score given in the first column. It indicates the grade and the month of the school year of these students. For a 4th grade student, for example, a score of 6.7 in the column headed GE would mean that the student scored on this test like typical students in the seventh month (April) of Grade 6. It would not mean that the student belongs in the 6th grade. Your child's grade at the time of testing is recorded in the heading of this report. Grade Equivalents are available for Level A.

AAGE • ANTICIPATED ACHIEVEMENT GRADE EQUIVALENT
AASS • ANTICIPATED ACHIEVEMENT SCALE SCORE

The column headed AAGE or AASS shows the score on this test obtained by students like your child — with similar age, grade in school, sex, and academic ability. This score is provided only for those students who took the test of academic aptitude in addition to the test of basic skills, and is available only at Levels 1-4. The AAGE score can be compared with the GE score, and the AASS can be compared with the SS.

DIFF • DIFFERENCE

The column headed DIFF records the difference between the scores in the two preceding columns when these differences are large enough to be important. If the GE or SS is significantly higher than the AAGE or AASS, there is a plus sign. This is to be interpreted as meaning that your child performed significantly better on this test than other students having the same age, grade, sex, and academic ability. A minus sign indicates that the child has scored significantly lower than other students with similar characteristics.

NS • NATIONAL STANINE
LS • LOCAL STANINE

The stanine is a scale from 1 to 9 that provides a rough estimate of a student's achievement. In general, scores of 1, 2, or 3 are considered below average; 4, 5, or 6 are considered average; and 7, 8, or 9 are considered above average. Like percentiles, they can be based on a national sample or on a local sample.

NP • NATIONAL PERCENTILE RANK
LP • LOCAL PERCENTILE RANK

Percentile rank shows the percentage of students in a national or local sample that received a lower raw score than your child. For example, if a 7th grade student scored 48 in this column, it would mean that 48% of the seventh graders in the sample received a lower raw score than that student. A score of 50, then, is the average score for all students in the same grade as your child. Please do not confuse this score with the percentage of items answered correctly, which is not available on this report. Some schools may choose to have their students compared with students in a national sample. When this is done, the column will be headed by NP. Other schools may choose to have their students compared with

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Swenson:

I am very happy to announce that your son, Mike, is a member of Louisville Middle School Honor Roll for the fourth quarter.

The Honor Roll is for students that maintain an "A-" average and above in all their subjects.

This is the third consecutive quarter for him.

Congratulations to Mike. You can be very proud of him.

We hope to send the certificate sometime at the beginning of school in the Fall.

Sincerely,

Walt Grebing

LOVE

Love can be very sweet,
But not always concrete.
If you open the lid,
Make a very good bid.
The love that rushes out
Will go bouncing about,
Touching people inside.
Now's your chance - open wide
For they might walk away,
Or they might wait a day,
But whatever they take
It's a gift that won't break,
Because love is still sweet.
For givers, it's complete.

CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES
HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20515

November 16, 1984

Mr. Michael Swenson
[illegible] South 36th
Boulder, Colorado 80303

Dear Michael:

The selection of the Second Congressional District's nominations to the United States Service Academies is now complete. It is truly rewarding to see the number of outstanding young men and women who wish to pursue a career of service to their country, and I am very proud of the quality of the candidates that I have had the opportunity to nominate for appointment to the Service Academies.

Congratulations Michael! I am pleased to inform you that I have nominated you for appointment to the United States Military Academy.

All nominations were awarded on a competitive basis, and each nomination was based exclusively on the recommendations of the Academy Advisory Committee. As you know, you will now compete with nine other nominees for the vacancy that I am permitted to fill at the Academy. If one of your competitors is selected for appointment, you may be placed in the Academy's "qualified alternate pool" and become eligible for appointment. I believe that you, as well as many other nominees, are in a good position to be appointed regardless of the Second District's quota at the Academy.

Today, I advised the Academy of my nominations. I am sure that you will hear from the admissions officer in the near future.

Again, please accept my sincere congratulations, and I will notify you if the Academy selects you for an appointment.

With best wishes,

Sincerely yours,

Tim Wirth

Name Mike Swenson

Grade: x Fifth Sixth

Quarter: 1st 2nd 3rd x 4th

Basic Skills Resource is a period of time given to the fifth and sixth grader to reinforce and supplement basic reading, writing, and listening skills at Louisville Middle School. It is designed around Learning Stations that emphasize various skills necessary in all content areas. It is the hope of the teachers that students will develop good independent work habits in various skill areas through this approach. A formal A, B, C, I grade will not be given, but progress reports will be kept to note the accomplishments of each student.

MATH LAB PROGRESS REPORT 197 -

Advisory Teacher MR. CHEREWATENKO

Name SWENSON, MIKE

Grade: x 5th ___6th

Quarter: __1st __2nd __3rd x 4th

Math Lab is a period of time given only to 5th and 6th graders to supplement their mathematics program here at Louisville Middle School. It is designed to introduce to children mathematical activities that are enjoyable as well as those which widen the range of their math experience. There are no formal test situations and much time is devoted to reinforcement of topics covered in their regular math class and practicing needed skills with our goal of continuous progress for each child as much an individual level as possible.

	Yes	Almost	No

MESSAGE TO PARENTS

This report is provided to inform you of your child's progress in Physical education. It differs, somewhat, from the traditional report card because of our desire to relate more detailed information about the program content and how your child is performing. The Physical Education program is a vital part of our educational program and is designed to provide unique experiences that will enhance the intellectual, social and emotional growth as well as the physical well-being of your child. It is hoped that this card will reflect the behavioral patterns of your child for your understanding.

AREAS OF INSTRUCTION

A. Football
B. Soccer
C. Speedball
D. Movement Exploration
E. Rope Skipping 3
F. Basketball
G. Volleyball 3
H. Tumbling
I. Gymnastics
J. Track and Field 4
K. Softball
L. Dance 4
M. Rhythms
N. 1, 2, 3, 4

The units as listed above are used in the broad sense since we emphasize the instruction of skills used in the sport rather than the sport itself. Modified games of the given sport may be used to practice the skills learned in a practical situation for both improvement and enjoyment.

BASIC SKILLS

Why I like America

I like America because it is a free and powerful country. It grows good food because it has rich soil. It has beautiful green trees, pretty roses and flowers. I like the summer with its pretty skies. I like it in the winter because I can walk through the snow and build snow-forts in the white blanket. I can have a snowball fight with my mom and dad. The wind's gentle and cool. I like the water because it cools me off when it's a very hot day. I like America for all the beautiful things it has in it. I like America because I am proud of the men that fought for our freedom. I hope I can do the same some day. When I go to the historic places I am proud. Some day I hope that I can do things like they did. I like my country because it is a free country so I can choose my school and job. No one can take my life,

The Little Gil That Hated Lolly Pops

Once upon a time there was a little girl that hated lollypops. Her name was, Gum because She loved gum so much. She ate gum for breakfast, for lunch, and for dimer. It was always a giant piece of it. Then one day she wanted to try another thing beside just gum. So she went to a Shop that sold lollypops. She took one and tried it. The minute she tasted it, she threw it down and said, "I hate lollypops"! Next she took another lollypop and a gum pop. She tasted them both but she couldn't tell the difference between them. That is why she likes lollypops now.

Johnny's Gift of Love Is Kati's Best Present of All

By MIKE SWENSON

Johnny was fourteen. He had been born and raised in the slums of New York. He had taken to crime as a way of living; his father and mother were no matter.

On this particular day Johnny was feeling especially low because it was Dec. 1. When he went downtown all the people were happy and smiling. Johnny looked at all the clothes in the windows and went by a sweet shop. The sights made him wish he could have a candy cane. Kati had let him taste one; he had loved it. I guess I should tell you about Kati. Kati was the prettiest, kindest girl Johnny had ever known. Sure Johnny was in love but he couldn't see how Kati could possibly like him; he was so very poor and he was living a life of crime.

Now, while Johnny was looking at the savory canes, he happened to glance across the street; there was Kati. Happiness filled him as he dashed across the street. "Hi Kati, what are you doing?" Kati replied, "I'm Christmas shopping; see, look at the lovely dress I bought for my mother. What are you giving your mother?" "We don't have any presents where I live; we don't even talk about Christmas," answered Johnny; sadness swept over him once again. Then Kati said, "Well, maybe you can come over to my house for Christmas." Johnny jumped up and down for joy, "Do you really think so?!" With that he ran home as fast as he could, waving goodbye as he disappeared.

When he got home his mother and father were eating a bowl of potatoe soup. Johnny dished out a bowl for himself and sat down. "Mom, Dad I'm going over to Kati's house for Christmas." "Who the heck is Kati?" asked his father. "Kati is a girl I know," answered Johnny. "Sure, you can go. What do we care." "All right!" said Johnny joyfully. When Johnny went to bed that night he remembered he would have to give her something.

The next day he set about thinking what he would give her. Days went by and he couldn't think of anything. Until Dec. 24 it hit him, he knew what he would give Kati tomorrow. He fell asleep imagining all that might have happened at Kati's that evening.

In his dream everyone was decorating the Christmas tree. Johnny had never seen so many people so happy at one time. They all finished decorating the tree by midnight. Everyone then went to bed and Johnny saw himself disappearing into sweet dreams.

It was exactly eight o'clock Christmas morning when Johnny rang the doorbell to Kati's house. Kati opened the door and said with a smile, "Come in." Everything was just as he had dreamed. The Christmas tree was decorated and everyone there was happy. Kati was unwrapping her last present because she had gotten the most. Everyone asked what was Johnny going to give? With that Johnny stood up and said, "Kati I have no money and no material gift but I give you all the love I have to give." After that Kati walked up to him and whispered, "That's all I wanted" and then she kissed him. Everyone cheered merrily, agreeing that Johnny had given the best gift of all. He had given what Jesus gave.

I too would like to remind you to give what Jesus gave ... LOVE. Don't give material wealth unless it is backed by love. Have a wonderful Christmas, like Johnny did.

one year when Santa decided to trade in that old sled for something better.

He went down to where they sell spaceships (27th century) with the sled and the reindeer for a trade-in. He bought one for $5000.00 He took it and went back home and got to work on making toys.

Then it was Christmas night. He took off, then all of a sudden, the engine stopped! He had forgotten to put in gas! He went down faster and faster, then crunch! He smashed right into a department store!

ship up and took it to the gas station. Then, since his engine was crushed, it towed him all around and started delivering the presents. That's how he got there.

"It's almost morning, Santa. Have you finished?" asked the reporter. "Yes," replied Santa. "This ends our great look at Santa in the 27th century."

★ A Wish Comes True On Planet of Venus

By MIKE SWENSON

It is Christmas Eve on Venus and it's the hottest season. This morning the sun is beaming down on Venus at 150 degrees Celsius. Every Dwiddlechirp is filled with both glee and food. (Dwiddlechirps are the inhabitants on Venus).

On this beautiful morning we shall visit Mr. Englesweitzer and his family; Mrs. Englesweitzer, Carolina and Bolow. Carolina and Bolow are called chirpees. Chirpee are like sons and daughters. These two scintillating chirpees just don't get along. They are always pecking at each other until Christmas time. Then they are perfect little Hobbidods. (Hobbidods are like angels).

Inside there cuddly cottage a air conditioner is going, spreading sweet smells throughout the house. Carolina and Bolow are watching mom cheerily bake all different kinds of luctous seasame seed cookies. Their beaks are drooling to get one. Their mom getting tired, sends them outside to visit their brilliantly decorated Christmas tree. Presents for all are glimmering, underneath it.

Bolow is five and is wishing for a rocket, so he like his friends can go to other planets. He has other glamorous wishes but this he likes best.

Carolina is twelve and is wishing for her own microwave like her mother. She has another wish and that is love and peace throughout all of Venus.

Her parents are secretly wishing the same wish Carolina is. They're going to try their hardest to make this come true for all of Venus.

In Flightville chirping is going on, songs like: "Dwiddlichirps Glee", "Bounce the Bows of Merrychirps", "Hark the King of Hobbidods", and so on. Flightville is a small village; the only stores that would close down are the ones that didn't have to do with food. Dwiddlechirps eat tremendously during the holiday season.

It's drawing towards noon and excitement is in the air. Carolina and Bolow go out to play in their cool underground fort. Bolow and Carolina decide to lay down for awhile and before long they fall into a wonderous sleep.

After awhile they begin to have a glorious dream. They were dreaming about love and peace for the whole planet. Everyone was full of kindness, generousity and loyalty. Life would simply be paradise.

All of the sudden they were awakened by their mom calling them to dinner. It was a delicious dinner of corn, grain, sunflower seeds and other scrumptious delights. Desert was some of those delicate cookies.

Soon it was time to go to bed and everyone was filled with excitement. Carolina and Bolow slept in their tree house while mom and dad stayed inside the cool cottage.

Morning seemed like years before it came but it finally came. Carolina and Bolow rushed outside where their parents already were. All around everyone was happy; giving nothing but love and peace, and it has stayed this way ever since. The Engleswietzers wish had come true, all because of Christmas Day.

Christmas projects, here are brief reviews of some recent books on the subject:

In Christmas Angels, Phyllis Mertz and Julianna Turkevich (Houghton Mifflin $6.95 paper) provide imaginative designs for simple projects for a wide range of skills. Even small children could manage some of the paper, felt, cookie dough, flour-salt-water clay and pipe-stump figures, alone or with a little adult help. For more experienced crafters, there are angels made from dried corn husks, stained glass, macrame and the ends of juice cans.

Any child old enough to handle knives and the stove safely and who has the manual dexterity to carve simple signs on art gum and decorate erasers could have great fun with The Stamp-Out Book, by Florence Temko (Crowell $7.95). Even those who may enjoy making cards, stationery, paper bells, wrapping paper, booklets and notebooks will find cloth banners.

In The Great Paper Book, by Flo Ann Norvell (Crowell $8.95), how to use corrugated board packing boxes and major appliances in time with their children than to spend money on them." From a practical viewpoint, Williams's book is less praiseworthy. Many of his directions are too skimpy for all but the most experienced crafts-persons, although the designs are wonderfully imaginative — a treasure island with a volcano that throws clouds of talcum powder into the air from a hidden squeeze bottle, for example, and The Great Clipper Ship Race Game. To flatten out the two sides of the board for the game you would have to break the spine of the book.

Williams' easier projects include a toy storage unit made from a refrigerator packing box decorated to resemble a castle. His directions for it are bound to delight any child: "Paint the box a sort of dirty yukky grayish brownish color by mixing up what's left in old paint cans ..." He uses potato printing to make the stonework design.

Lots of rainy day ideas for children are in Paperworks, by Florence Temko (Bobbs-Merrill; $7.95 paper) in addition to such holiday crafts as candy canes made from striped wrapping paper, greeting cards and note paper, a folded paper wreath whose inside rim forms a six-pointed star suitable for Hanukkah, even luminarias, the paper bag candle holders traditional for outdoor decorations at Christmas in New Mexico.

One day some girls and boys had to go to a party but they did not know who sent for them and they walked and walked and walked. Who could of sent for them? Do you know? If you dont you can find out. But if you do know who sent for them to go to the party please dont tell the children because if they are going to hear a funny story and now it begins. One day some children where working at a strange place some of them were curious about the scary house just not to far away. One day they diided to go in the house. They went to the back door. There were all sorts of bones and bat bats there were even was a very very scary monster. We even had a sword and a gun. But it was really just Jimmy with his play gun and play sword. The clothes were so big that they fell off of Jimmy and the kids were all
